

Beneficial Advice

As a pastor, I receive a lot of sometimes informative information which just calls out to be shared. For instance, someone has collected a list of Fatal Things to Say to Your Pregnant Wife which I feel compelled to share with my brethren. Following are seven fatal things to say to your wife when she is pregnant.

#7: "I finished the Oreos." #6 "Y'know, looking at her, you'd never guess that Pamela Lee had a baby!" #5: "Well, could they induce labor? The 25th is the Super Bowl." #4 "Whoa! For a minute there, I thought I woke up next to Willard Scott!" #3: "I'm jealous! Why can't men experience the joy of childbirth?" #2: "Are your ankles supposed to look like that?" and the #1 Fatal Thing to Say to Your Pregnant Wife: "You don't have the guts to pull the trigger." And then there is the question, "Is the glass half full, or half empty?" It depends on whether you're pouring, or drinking. Other words of wisdom: Always keep your words soft and sweet, just in case you have to eat them, and always read stuff that will make you look good if you die in the middle of it.

Imagine having to wash a cat. I had to once, and it was an experience! Years later, I received the following instructions on how to do it properly: Dear P.J. To bathe the cat: 1. Put both lids of the toilet up and add 1/8 cup of pet shampoo to the water in the bowl. 2. Pick up the cat and soothe him while you carry him towards the bath room. 3. In one smooth movement, put the cat in the toilet and close both lids. Following this activity, you may need to stand on the lid. 4. The cat will self-agitate and make ample suds. Never mind the noises that come from the toilet, the cat is actually enjoying this. 5. Flush the toilet three or four times. This provides both the "Power Wash" and "Rinse." 6. Have someone open the front door of your home. Make sure that there are no people between the bathroom and the front door. 7. Stand behind the toilet as far as you can, and quickly lift both lids.

8. The cat will now rocket out of the toilet, streak through the bathroom, and run outside where he will dry himself off, cat-fashion. 9. Both the commode and the cat will be sparkling clean. "Hope this helps!" Sincerely, Rover.

"Blessed is the man who finds wisdom, the man who gains understanding, for it is more profitable than silver and yields better returns than gold. It is more precious than rubies; nothing you desire can compare with it." Proverbs 3:13-15.
